

The Abbeville Press and Banner.

BY HUGH WILSON.

ABBEVILLE, S. C., WEDNESDAY, JULY 16, 1902.

ESTABLISHED 1844

JOHN GARY EVANS.

Spartanburg's Candidate for United States Senate.

Backed by People of All Classes With out Regard to Past Factional Affiliations the Ex-Governor Enters the Senatorial Race.

(From The Spartanburg Journal.)

Spartanburg's candidate for the United States senate to succeed John L. McLaurin is ex-Governor John Gary Evans. In a residence of several years he has established himself in the esteem and good will of the people of this county to such an extent that he is regarded with no less affection and interest that would be the case were he a native born Spartan. His popularity extends to all classes. Some of his closest political and personal friends are to be found among those who were formerly his strongest opponents.

To know Governor Evans has been to appreciate his fine qualities, his sterling honesty and his eminent qualifications as a statesman and citizen. He carried this county by large majorities for governor and senator, and he will carry it this year by a much larger majority than ever; indeed, it might almost be said that he will receive the unanimous democratic vote of the county, so great is the local interest in his candidacy. His personal popularity extending from Spartanburg County as a basis, is radiated all over the Piedmont section of the state and in every profession, trade and calling Governor Evans is looked upon as a splendid type of a South Carolinian.

His Strength is With All Classes.

His friendship and aid have ever been extended to the large agricultural interests of the state, and out large and growing industrial population has come to regard him as a staunch and sincere friend. At the same time Governor Evans has never been regarded as hostile to capital and corporations in any sense, and has many friends and supporters among those who have large investments in cotton and other manufacturing industries. While there can hardly be said to be any logic in politics, Governor Evans is nevertheless the logical candidate to succeed McLaurin, by reason of the vigorous and wonderfully prophetic fight he made on the commercial statesman five years ago. He then said McLaurin was a republican, and that gentleman has himself since proven the charge beyond a doubt. Governor Evans was not the only prophet in that line, however, but he was the only man who made a fight on McLaurin then who is now a candidate before the people as his successor. He evidently knows a republican when he sees one, and this is some assurance, if any were needed, that his own democracy is straight.

Has Been Faithful to Every Trust.

Governor Evans' equipment and qualifications for the senatorship are undoubted, and his services to the people of the state certainly give him a claim upon their earnest consideration of his candidacy. He has ever been faithful to the trust reposed in him by the democrats of South Carolina, and retains to the utmost the respect and confidence of those who know him. The very fact that he has held the support of those who were his political associates in times when there were sharp lines drawn between the factional affiliations of our people and has since the effacement of those lines drawn to himself the good will and friendship of those who formerly opposed him, shows him to be a man who is steadfast in character and eminent in ability. He is strongest where he is best known, and is backed by the support of the thickly populated Piedmont counties and he is sure to be a formidable factor in the race.

Tillman Hands Off.

In view of numerous reports about this man and that man being "Tillman's candidate" for the senate, a statement made by Senator Tillman in Washington recently may prove of interest to those watching South Carolina politics.

"There is really no reason why I should mix up in this race," said Senator Tillman, "nor do I intend to take the slightest part in it one way or the other. It is true that before Evans entered the race there was but one candidate in the field, Representative Latimer, who had not at one time opposed me. For this reason, thinking to hurt Representative Latimer's chances for election, the report has been circulated that I was backing Latimer. It is untrue to say that I am backing any one of the candidates. Now that Mr. Evans has definitely announced his candidacy for the senate, there will be two of my former supporters in the race. Another reason why I am not called upon to take a hand."

"But it should be remembered that none of the candidates in the race are running for the senate against me. They are after the junior senatorship, and because in the past the other candidates—Mr. Elliott, Mr. Hemphill, Mr. Henderson and Mr. Johnston—have been political opponents of mine does not seem to me to furnish either an excuse or a reason for my meddling in the game."

D. W. F. C.

Some Facts in Reference to the Best Place to Educate Your Daughters.

The Press and Banner is in receipt of the catalogue of the Due West Female College for the scholastic year, which ended with the recent commencement.

The regular course of studies is comprehensive, and the ability and efficiency of the different teachers is known of all men.

In the musical department the melody is sweeter and better than any that has been heard since the morning stars sang together.

In the specialty of stringed instruments David's harp would count as nothing when compared with the strings which set the notes aloft on the air at the Due West Female College.

The human voice is the most charming of all the sounds that have been heard by the sons of men, and in this college particular attention is paid to the rhythm and cadence of the voices of those who seek tuition in this college.

Physical culture is not less important than other branches of education. In the early history of the human race we are told that "Leah was tender-eyed; but Rachel was beautiful and well-favored. Even in the eyes of the world at that early period it would seem that beauty was most highly prized. In all the ages that have intervened, evidences that beauty has been an important factor are not lacking. The fate of individuals and of nations have no doubt been often influenced by beauty and that sweet attractive grace which carries captive the masculine heart. If, therefore, our young ladies would take their chances at controlling nations, or in settling the fate of men, they should cultivate their physique and train their voices for seraphic choirs.

From the catalogue of the Due West Female College we take the following paragraphs:

LOCATION.

Due West Female College is situated in the pleasant village of Due West, Abbeville County, S. C. The village has a population of about 1,000, and is distinctively a college town, having grown up around the institutions established here more than half a century ago. Erskine College and Erskine Theological Seminary in 1849, and the Female College in 1859. Consequently we have a community of peculiarly admirable characteristics. There is a high degree of intellectual culture and social refinement, with none of the dissipation and extravagance of large towns. The example set before students in dress, dwelling and manners is most helpful and wholesome. The moral and religious tone of the community is pure and high. In this respect the town is without an equal. The Charleston News and Courier calls Due West "our own Drumtochty, the place where the Ark of the Covenant dwells." The Greenville News recently said: "If any man is losing faith in the faith and wondering if the good, strong, stern, inflexible old religion of logic, precept and practice has faded from the world, let him go to Due West, S. C. Their standards of thought, conduct and conversation are high as the Alps, and rigid as the eternal rocks. Of all the people we know, they are the most completely true to the world, while in it."

To receive an education amid such influences is a rare privilege. The climate is the most salubrious and delightful in all our lovely southland. The water is pure freestone and remarkably fine. In point of healthfulness Due West yields to no other place in the state. The streets are well paved, shaded and shaded, and invite to outdoor exercise. The afternoon walks are a delightful feature of college life.

THE COLLEGE BUILDING.

The College Building is large and spacious, and admirably adapted to the purpose for which it was erected. It is a large three-story brick, sixty-five feet square, with two wings two stories high and forty-four by thirty-two feet each. To this additions were made in 1884 and 1887, giving in addition to Chapel, Dining-Room, Class Rooms, Society Halls, Music Hall, Music Rooms, and rooms for the President's family accommodations for some thirty dormitories are 12 x 14 feet and accommodate two young ladies, while a few are 20 x 20 feet, and may be pleasantly occupied by four young ladies. The rooms have been recently furnished in oak of a neat and attractive design. Every room is well ventilated and is penetrated by the sun-light several hours a day, both winter and summer. Our aim is to provide a comfortable and homelike apartment for the young ladies.

WATER SUPPLY.

Our new water supply has given perfect satisfaction. It comes from a tubular well 82 feet deep. A two-inch galvanized iron tube, with air-tight joints, passes through several strata of porous clay and two or three strata of rock and stops in the solid granite. A fine flow of the purest water comes from this granite bed at depth of 82 feet, and as every drop comes from that depth, it must be free from all surface impurities. It may almost be called artesian, as it rises to within seven feet of the surface. The water heretofore used came from wells not over 20 feet deep. That was considered good. This is surely above reproach. The health of the boarders the past year has been remarkably good.

Expression and Physical Culture.

MISS STARK.

Expression has a deeper, broader and more comprehensive meaning than any other word in the whole vocabulary of educational terms. It is the art of thinking, feeling, knowing and making known. The course in Expression includes the several departments of action; as gesture, dramatic portrayal, pantomime and physical culture. We believe it the duty of every person to devote at least one school year to the training of the powers of expression; it implants readiness of manner and self-control while it teaches grace, ease, polish and refinement.

Religions.

The College, while non-sectarian, is positively Christian. The moral and spiritual culture of the girls is our foremost desire and highest aim. In our judgment, if this is lacking, the principal thing is lacking. By daily worship in the chapel, the teaching of the Bible as a text book, Sabbath school exercises on the Sabbath, and attendance on public worship in the church of their choice, and special religious services among the pupils—all these and other means we hope to lead the young ladies to know and to love and serve Christ.

A Young Woman's Christian Association has for several years done great good in the college. The young ladies themselves conducting a weekly prayer meeting with interest and profit.

The past year has been the most prosperous in the history of the Association. The religious status of the College was never better. Every boarding pupil was a professing Christian and with few exceptions all took an earnest interest in the meetings and work of the Association. In addition to the support of the young ladies in school a delegate was sent to the Student Volunteer Convention in Toronto, Canada, and two delegates were sent to the Students Summer Conference at Asheville, N. C.

ATTENDANCE BY STATES.

| | |
|---------------------------|-----|
| South Carolina..... | 109 |
| North Carolina..... | 12 |
| Georgia..... | 6 |
| Tennessee..... | 6 |
| Alabama..... | 3 |
| Mississippi..... | 1 |
| Texas..... | 1 |
| Egypt..... | 1 |
| Arkansas..... | 1 |
| District of Columbia..... | 3 |
| Total..... | 138 |

Stringed Instruments.

MISS WATKINS.

Stringed instruments are becoming more popular each day. While one cannot always afford a piano, a mandolin, violin or guitar is in the reach of all. The convenience of these instruments makes them doubly popular, as they are easily carried with you.

The violin for young ladies, and the mandolin as a solo instrument, are rapidly gaining popularity. A mandolin—a simple thing it seems, indeed—yet, what depths of music, of harmony and of uplifting cadence, lie within those strings and within that bowl, when the one is touched by the master hand and the other responds with soulful feeling! The same may be said of all stringed instruments.

The Zolian Club, composed of pupils on all stringed instruments, was organized early in the past year and has been a great help in the advancement of pupils. It has given several delightful entertainments.

Commercial Department.

MISS MARSHALL.

This department has been introduced into our College with the view of placing a good business education within the reach of all our pupils. A new era has dawned upon woman, and her field of usefulness is broadening every year. The time has come when every ambitious young woman seeks to prepare herself for some self-supporting occupation. To meet her demands many fields of useful and honest employment have been opened to her, and now in this position as secretaries, amanuenses, or office assistants with a modesty and ability to which the world gives high commendation.

STENOGRAPHY AND TYPEWRITING.

Stenography has become a commercial necessity, and is indispensable in order to meet the present demands of business. Lawyers, merchants, ministers, authors, bankers, officers of city and state, and on something faster than long-hand, something combining speed with accuracy and legibility. This need is well supplied by the Stenographer and Typewriter. Aside from its commercial value and utility, study and is recognized by educators as an intellectual accomplishment. The master of Stenography finds himself possessed of an art which he deems almost invaluable. Hundreds of young women are entering the choice of a pursuit could soon be filling paying positions if they would but perfect themselves in these branches. We teach the Graham system of short-hand, believing it to be the most practical, one that is easily acquired, and that is equal to all the demands of the amanuensis and the reporter. Our pupils after completing the text-books required are given dictation in commercial correspondence, addresses, lectures, etc.

In the Typewriting Department each pupil receives individual instruction concerning the mechanism of the machine and correct fingering; and the exercises are carefully graded and special attention is paid to accuracy and neatness of the work.

BOOKKEEPING.

This department is designed to furnish a practical knowledge of Double and Single Entry Bookkeeping. The most modern, practical and labor-saving forms are taught, including two, four and six column journals. Each student is thoroughly drilled in the principles and the theory of Double Entry, Partnership, Company and Commission Sets, and how to charge a set of books from Single to Double Entry. Those completing this course will be qualified to keep any ordinary set of books.

REQUIREMENTS.

In order to meet with success after leaving College, students must possess more than a mere knowledge of Bookkeeping and Stenography. Too often pupils who have very little knowledge of the common English branches take up the study of the "Latin art" not realizing that the demands that will be constantly made upon their knowledge of English, Mathematics, Literature and the current events of the day. In order to meet this need students entering our Commercial Department are required to possess a satisfactory knowledge of Penmanship, Spelling and English Composition. They will be required to pass the examination for the Sophomore class in English, Arithmetic, Students entering only the Commercial Department, if unable to meet these requirements at the beginning of the term, will have access to these regular College classes free of charge.

Religions.

The College, while non-sectarian, is positively Christian. The moral and spiritual culture of the girls is our foremost desire and highest aim. In our judgment, if this is lacking, the principal thing is lacking. By daily worship in the chapel, the teaching of the Bible as a text book, Sabbath school exercises on the Sabbath, and attendance on public worship in the church of their choice, and special religious services among the pupils—all these and other means we hope to lead the young ladies to know and to love and serve Christ.

A Young Woman's Christian Association has for several years done great good in the college. The young ladies themselves conducting a weekly prayer meeting with interest and profit.

The past year has been the most prosperous in the history of the Association. The religious status of the College was never better. Every boarding pupil was a professing Christian and with few exceptions all took an earnest interest in the meetings and work of the Association. In addition to the support of the young ladies in school a delegate was sent to the Student Volunteer Convention in Toronto, Canada, and two delegates were sent to the Students Summer Conference at Asheville, N. C.

ATTENDANCE BY STATES.

| | |
|---------------------------|-----|
| South Carolina..... | 109 |
| North Carolina..... | 12 |
| Georgia..... | 6 |
| Tennessee..... | 6 |
| Alabama..... | 3 |
| Mississippi..... | 1 |
| Texas..... | 1 |
| Egypt..... | 1 |
| Arkansas..... | 1 |
| District of Columbia..... | 3 |
| Total..... | 138 |

Stringed Instruments.

MISS WATKINS.

Stringed instruments are becoming more popular each day. While one cannot always afford a piano, a mandolin, violin or guitar is in the reach of all. The convenience of these instruments makes them doubly popular, as they are easily carried with you.

The violin for young ladies, and the mandolin as a solo instrument, are rapidly gaining popularity. A mandolin—a simple thing it seems, indeed—yet, what depths of music, of harmony and of uplifting cadence, lie within those strings and within that bowl, when the one is touched by the master hand and the other responds with soulful feeling! The same may be said of all stringed instruments.

The Zolian Club, composed of pupils on all stringed instruments, was organized early in the past year and has been a great help in the advancement of pupils. It has given several delightful entertainments.

Commercial Department.

MISS MARSHALL.

This department has been introduced into our College with the view of placing a good business education within the reach of all our pupils. A new era has dawned upon woman, and her field of usefulness is broadening every year. The time has come when every ambitious young woman seeks to prepare herself for some self-supporting occupation. To meet her demands many fields of useful and honest employment have been opened to her, and now in this position as secretaries, amanuenses, or office assistants with a modesty and ability to which the world gives high commendation.

STENOGRAPHY AND TYPEWRITING.

Stenography has become a commercial necessity, and is indispensable in order to meet the present demands of business. Lawyers, merchants, ministers, authors, bankers, officers of city and state, and on something faster than long-hand, something combining speed with accuracy and legibility. This need is well supplied by the Stenographer and Typewriter. Aside from its commercial value and utility, study and is recognized by educators as an intellectual accomplishment. The master of Stenography finds himself possessed of an art which he deems almost invaluable. Hundreds of young women are entering the choice of a pursuit could soon be filling paying positions if they would but perfect themselves in these branches. We teach the Graham system of short-hand, believing it to be the most practical, one that is easily acquired, and that is equal to all the demands of the amanuensis and the reporter. Our pupils after completing the text-books required are given dictation in commercial correspondence, addresses, lectures, etc.

In the Typewriting Department each pupil receives individual instruction concerning the mechanism of the machine and correct fingering; and the exercises are carefully graded and special attention is paid to accuracy and neatness of the work.

BOOKKEEPING.

This department is designed to furnish a practical knowledge of Double and Single Entry Bookkeeping. The most modern, practical and labor-saving forms are taught, including two, four and six column journals. Each student is thoroughly drilled in the principles and the theory of Double Entry, Partnership, Company and Commission Sets, and how to charge a set of books from Single to Double Entry. Those completing this course will be qualified to keep any ordinary set of books.

REQUIREMENTS.

In order to meet with success after leaving College, students must possess more than a mere knowledge of Bookkeeping and Stenography. Too often pupils who have very little knowledge of the common English branches take up the study of the "Latin art" not realizing that the demands that will be constantly made upon their knowledge of English, Mathematics, Literature and the current events of the day. In order to meet this need students entering our Commercial Department are required to possess a satisfactory knowledge of Penmanship, Spelling and English Composition. They will be required to pass the examination for the Sophomore class in English, Arithmetic, Students entering only the Commercial Department, if unable to meet these requirements at the beginning of the term, will have access to these regular College classes free of charge.

Religions.

The College, while non-sectarian, is positively Christian. The moral and spiritual culture of the girls is our foremost desire and highest aim. In our judgment, if this is lacking, the principal thing is lacking. By daily worship in the chapel, the teaching of the Bible as a text book, Sabbath school exercises on the Sabbath, and attendance on public worship in the church of their choice, and special religious services among the pupils—all these and other means we hope to lead the young ladies to know and to love and serve Christ.

CHILD LABOR.

Capt. Shaw Writes a Sensible and a Foreboding Letter in Behalf of the Cotton Mill People, Whom the Politicians Would Oppress.

I have been asked by a great many friends personally and have a number of letters on my table asking me to give my views on the Child Labor Bill through the columns of your paper and will endeavor to do so.

In the first place it is a law that if confined to the cotton mill industry, it is unconstitutional for it discriminates in the law. It is a class legislation for only one class of people.

In the next place, it is undemocratic; it is contrary to justice; it is contrary to personal liberty, taking away from a free man the right to control his own labor.

It is contrary to a Republican form of government and contrary to all Christian religious sentiment.

The Bible says, he that does not provide for his household is worse than an infidel, and if cotton mill owners are to be allowed to put their children in the mill, they will be forced to do so.

I cannot believe that our cotton mill men are in favor of such a law. It would be an insult to their intelligence to say that they are unable to control their own families.

I think that the good women at all the factories in the state should be organized and such a law as they gather their children around their knees at night before they retire and offer up their beautiful petitions to God, that their voices will be heard lamenting and weeping for their children as Rachel did, and that they will be heard in the cotton mill.

Are they not sons of fathers who bought freedom with their own blood when Concord and Lexington were the battle-fields?

The bill does not take into account the condition of the mill men to take the cost from their backs, they will face the cost of their children's education and try to enforce it on him to take from him his own liberty and his own rights and deprive him of the right to control his own labor.

Will you make it a law that if a man takes his child to the mill, he will be fined $100, and if he does not take his child to the mill, he will be fined $100, and if he does not take his child to the mill, he will be fined $100.

Very respectfully, W. C. Shaw.

A Card From Mr. Richardson.

Greenville News.

At the request of Col. James A. Hoyt I have published the following explanation of the circumstances surrounding the dispute which he sent out from Greenville on Tuesday night.

On Tuesday morning I read the account in the Greenville News of the dispute between the editor of the Greenville News and the editor of the Abbeville Press.

I went to Col. Hoyt on Tuesday after reading his account in the State, and told him that I was a friend of the Greenville News and that I was a friend of the Abbeville Press.

Col. Hoyt replied that he had sent his dispatch to the State on information received from the Greenville News, and that he was a friend of the Greenville News.

He told me that he had wished to obtain information concerning the other side of the dispute, but that the hour was too late, consequently he sent the Evans report of the affair.

Col. Hoyt said that I thought it a very remarkable piece of journalism, that he should have fathered the untrue statement of Evans and his own account of the affair, and that he had sent the Evans report of the affair.

It is true that the next issue of the State published an "ape" of the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News.

It is true that the next issue of the State published an "ape" of the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News.

It is true that the next issue of the State published an "ape" of the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News.

It is true that the next issue of the State published an "ape" of the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News.

It is true that the next issue of the State published an "ape" of the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News.

It is true that the next issue of the State published an "ape" of the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News.

It is true that the next issue of the State published an "ape" of the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News.

It is true that the next issue of the State published an "ape" of the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News.

It is true that the next issue of the State published an "ape" of the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News.

It is true that the next issue of the State published an "ape" of the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News.

It is true that the next issue of the State published an "ape" of the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News.

It is true that the next issue of the State published an "ape" of the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News.

It is true that the next issue of the State published an "ape" of the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News.

It is true that the next issue of the State published an "ape" of the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News.

It is true that the next issue of the State published an "ape" of the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News.

It is true that the next issue of the State published an "ape" of the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News, and one from the Greenville News.

WEST END.

George Johnston for U. S. Senator.

The purpose of our Democratic primary is to give the people an opportunity to find out something of those who aspire to position. To give an opportunity to judge of the character, ability, and fitness for the position, so that a judicious selection may be made, and the voters may be able to cast their ballot intelligently. In the canvass which is now on the State for United States Senatorship, there are six aspirants. One must be chosen. They all stand on practically the same platform. There are no issues among them. The question then to be decided is one of personal fitness and intellectual ability to stand up with the giants of intellect in the Senate and defend Democratic principles and the rights of the people.

George Johnston, of Newberry, possesses in an eminent degree the qualifications to fit him for this exalted position. Why? He has an education, training to fit him for the position. From the schools of his county, the famous Marlboro school in Anderson County, the white youth of the State, the Citadel in Charleston, and four and a half years in Edinburgh in Scotland.

He is one of the late Chancellor Job Johnston, whose opinions rank in literary ability and no superior as an advocate. He has been expected to be a senator for years, covering the most important and critical period in the history of our State, when we were reeling on our knees under the destructive period of reconstruction.

He is one of the late Chancellor Job Johnston, whose opinions rank in literary ability and no superior as an advocate. He has been expected to be a senator for years, covering the most important and critical period in the history of our State, when we were reeling on our knees under the destructive period of reconstruction.

He is one of the late Chancellor Job Johnston, whose opinions rank in literary ability and no superior as an advocate. He has been expected to be a senator for years, covering the most important and critical period in the history of our State, when we were reeling on our knees under the destructive period of reconstruction.

He is one of the late Chancellor Job Johnston, whose opinions rank in literary ability and no superior as an advocate. He has been expected to be a senator for years, covering the most important and critical period in the history of our State, when we were reeling on our knees under the destructive period of reconstruction.

He is one of the late Chancellor Job Johnston, whose opinions rank in literary ability and no superior as an advocate. He has been expected to be a senator for years, covering the most important and critical period in the history of our State, when we were reeling on our knees under the destructive period of reconstruction.

He is one of the late Chancellor Job Johnston, whose opinions rank in literary ability and no superior as an advocate. He has been expected to be a senator for years, covering the most important and critical period in the history of our State, when we were reeling on our knees under the destructive period of reconstruction.

He is one of the late Chancellor Job Johnston, whose opinions rank in literary ability and no superior as an advocate. He has been expected to be a senator for years, covering the most important and critical period in the history of our State, when we were reeling on our knees under the destructive period of reconstruction.

He is one of the late Chancellor Job Johnston, whose opinions rank in literary ability and no superior as an advocate. He has been expected to be a senator for years, covering the most important and critical period in the history of our State, when we were reeling on our knees under the destructive period of reconstruction.

He is one of the late Chancellor Job Johnston, whose opinions rank in literary ability and no superior as an advocate. He has been expected to be a senator for years, covering the most important and critical period in the history of our State, when we were reeling on our knees under the destructive period of reconstruction.

He is one of the late Chancellor Job Johnston, whose opinions rank in literary ability and no superior as an advocate. He has been expected to be a senator for years, covering the most important and critical period in the history of our State, when we were reeling on our knees under the destructive period of reconstruction.

He is one of the late Chancellor Job Johnston, whose opinions rank in literary ability and no superior as an advocate. He has been expected to be a senator for years, covering the most important and critical period in the history of our State, when we were reeling on our knees under the destructive period of reconstruction.

He is one of the late Chancellor Job Johnston, whose opinions rank in literary ability and no superior as an advocate. He has been expected to be a senator for years, covering the most important and critical period in the history of our State, when we were reeling on our knees under the destructive period of reconstruction.

He is one of the late Chancellor Job Johnston, whose opinions rank in literary ability and no superior as an advocate. He has been expected to be a senator for years, covering the most important and critical period in the history of our State, when we were reeling on our knees under the destructive period of reconstruction.

He is one of the late Chancellor Job Johnston, whose opinions rank in literary ability and no superior as an advocate. He has been expected to be a senator for years, covering the most important and critical period in the history of our State, when we were reeling on our knees under the destructive period of reconstruction.

He is one of the late Chancellor Job Johnston, whose opinions rank in literary ability and no superior as an advocate. He has been expected to be a senator for years, covering the most important and critical period in the history of our State, when we were reeling on our knees under the destructive period of reconstruction.

He is one of the late Chancellor Job Johnston, whose opinions rank in literary ability and no superior as an advocate. He has been expected to be a senator for years, covering the most important and critical period in the history of our State, when we were reeling on our knees under the destructive period of reconstruction.

He is one of the late Chancellor Job Johnston, whose opinions rank in literary ability and no superior as an advocate. He has been expected to be a senator for years, covering the most important and critical period in the history of our State, when we were reeling on our knees under the destructive period of reconstruction.

He is one of the late Chancellor Job Johnston, whose opinions rank in literary ability and no superior as an advocate. He has been expected to be a senator for years, covering the most important and critical period in the history of our State, when we were reeling on our knees under the destructive period of reconstruction.

He is one of the late Chancellor Job Johnston, whose opinions rank in literary ability and no superior as an advocate. He has been expected to be a senator for years, covering the most important and critical period in the history of our State, when we were reeling on our knees under the destructive period of reconstruction.

He is one of the late Chancellor Job Johnston, whose opinions rank in literary ability and no superior as an advocate. He has been expected to be a senator for years, covering the most important and critical period in the history of our State, when we were reeling on our knees under the destructive period of reconstruction.

He is one of the late Chancellor Job Johnston, whose opinions rank in literary ability and no superior as an advocate. He has been expected to be a senator for years, covering the most important and critical period in the history of our State, when we were reeling on our knees under the destructive period